Van Dyke says truly, "Wines get into the body, but jazz gets into the soul."

Foreign children are musical because they hear good music from birth. America can surely give the young people surroundings that are as musical because they can inspire like other nations, less secure and opulent. At the present time a Music Memory Contest seems to furnish the most practicable plan for making good music familiar to our young people.

LARGE PROGRAM PLANNED FOR COMING YEAR.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Board of Trade was held in the club rooms Tuesday night. There was a good attendance and much spirited interest shown. Before the election of members of the board of directors, considerable old business was finished up and re ports made by the secretary-treasur-er and standing committees.

Much discussion was aroused when Much discussion was aroused when a proposal, was made to reduce the membership fee and annual dues. A few believed that $15.00 a year is too much to pay, especially for those who hay not be actively engaged in business. After much discussion it was the general opinion that $15.00 per year should be paid by all business and professional men and those holding public office, either elective or aping public office, either elective or at pointed, but that for working men and chose not engaged in a business or profession the fee should be reduced.

Among the several topics that were discussed during the evening were those of reckless auto driving in town, especially fast driving when crossing intersecting streets and corners and school yards and other places where children may be playing; driving with-out lights; autos overloaded with young people, racing up and down the streets.

Also the matter of resuming ringing of the curfew bell was discussed, and the apparent need of keeping young children off, the streets was very evident. Several accounts of young people, especially young school girls, being on our streets after the hours of 10:00 o'clock on to as late as 2:00 o w ware told. The men re-2:00 a. m. were told. The men requested Mayor Canfield to look up the curfew law in Grayling, if there is one and to ask the night marshal to en-force it, assuring him of the backing of the members of the Board of Trade.

This ordinance states, in part, that it is the duty of the village marshal to ring the curfew bell at 7:45 p. m. and to see that all children under fifteen years of age, unless accompanied by their parent or legal guardian or are in possession of a written permit duly. signed by such parent or guardian, are off the streets at 8 o'clock at night otherwise such child shall be deemed a violator of such ordinance.

And such ordinance further holds responsible the parents or guardians for the neglect of such child under penalty of a fine of $100.00, and in default of payment of such fine, be imprisoned in the county in the country in the coun imprisoned in the county jail for the period of ninety days.

The enforcement of this law appears to have been a disappointing task, due largely, it appears, to the lack of cooperation on the part of the parents with the village officers. We believe that if there ever was a time when drastic enforcement of this law was necessary, it is now. When conserva-tive thinking men and women, not fanatics, report tales of seeing and hear-

TICK ERADICATION IS URGED

It is Only in Sections Where Parasites Have Been Destroyed That Dairy-ing Pays Well.

(Prepared by the United States Departs of Agriculture.) Wherever the dairy industry has gained a foothold in the South there is strong sentiment in favor of the complete eradication of the cattle tick, says the United States Department of Agriculture, for it is only in tick-free areas that the dairy cow can be ex-pected to return a profit. At the last session of the state legislature of Mis-

. Why Dairymen Need Silo

Six convincing reasons why dairymen need silos are given by A. C. Baer, heal of the Dairy department at Oklahoma A. and M. college. They are:

1. Dairy cows need succulent feed during the dry season and during the winter,

A silo will preserve feed crops in the best and most profit-

TO RAISE CALVES "BY HAND"

Ohio Specialists Say Don't Weam Youngster Until Eive Days Old-Feed Some Grain.

To raise calves "by hand," say specialists th animal husbandry extension for the Ohio State university, don't wean the calf until four or five days old. Then for the next three weeks, feed it's mother's milk from a bucket at the rate of from eight to twelve pounds daily. Substitute one pound of skim milk daily until the calf is receiving its whole ration of skim milk. Cracked corn or oats may be placed in the bucket after the calf has fin-ished its milk. Calves ought to have milk until five or six months old, the college specialists believe, and they add that even a longer period of milk feeding is preferable.

Barley Is Good Dairy Food. Barley is about as good a feed for dairy cows as cornmeal, according to-A. C. Baer, professor of dairying at the Oklahoma A. and M. college, Stillwater. The grain should be ground, however, as milk cows cannot utilize barley very well unless it is ground.
